

Order Over £100

Since you have sold us an item over £100 value we recommend that it should be sent Via royal mail special delivery which will insure your Valuable item in case if it gets lost. Currently we cannot send special delivery return labels out to Customers which means customers will have to pay for their items to send them to us which can be reimbursed once we have received the item. We are working with royal mail to be able to send a prepaid special delivery shipping label to our customers as soon as possible.

Please Note.

Customers must send their contact details along with order number to avoid delays in processing their orders.
